WORK EXPERIENCE

Financial researcher

At Banxico

I am investigating the effects of climate change on Mexican credit portfolios. I am also developing and implementing econometric and machine learning techniques to anticipate portfolio delinquency.

♥ CDMX

2020-2021

Data Analysis Manager

At Banorte

My main tasks were developing and implementing machine learning algorithms to evaluate RCTs. Moreover, I designed some experiments based on behavioral economics' theories.

♥ CDMX

2020-2021

Teaching Assistant and Research Assistant

At CIDE

During the master I start to work with a SNI researcher in his investigation, helping with data analysis and developing machine learning algorithms for social programs evaluation. Meanwhile I'm teaching the "Introduction to Data Science" laboratory.

♥ CDMX

2014-2019

Supply Chain Coordinator Mexico

At Studio Ceri

When Studio Ceri decided to expand its business in México by buying an 28000 m² warehouse, I was in charge of coordinating the whole supply chain and developing the necessary IT infrastructure. My role was Mexico Supply Chain Director, supervising purchasing, national logistic and warehouse division.

♥ CDMX

2013 - 2014

Project Manager

At Studio Ceri

Studio Ceri is an Italian leader in interior design. My first task was to verify the correct implementation of the several projects the firm had at the time and to solve the potential issues on site. I oversaw a team ranging from 30 to 70 persons with different backgrounds and skill set. This work helped me to get used to work under pressure, to meet challenging deadlines and to develop leadership and managing skills.

♥ México

2012 - 2013

Junior Consultant

At Accenture

I joined a team working on a Fincantieri's project. My main task was to develop a forecasting tool to make more accurate calculation of the costs and of material consumption in the making of a new cruise. I found this experience extremely stimulating, especially because of the very challenging and competitive environment.

♥ Milan

2009 - 2012

Warehouse Assistant

At Chiuso per Ferie

I began as a customer assistant in a wearing apparel shop in Milan. After six month I started to manage the small warehouse and the purchase orders for Filastrocca's personal apparel label. This work allowed me to pay my university tuition jointly with the scholarship.
